DANIEL DUNLOP PASSES

No one in the Crows' Nest Pass was better known and beloved by all who ever came into contact with him than was Daniel Dunlop, a Pass pioneer, who passed away rather suddenly at his residence in Frank about 8.30 on Tuesday morning.

Up to Friday last Mr. Dunlop appeared to be enjoying fairly good health. On that day, he and Mrs. Dunlop visited Blairmore, met and shook hands with many friends, did shopping, etc., and returned home. Mr. Dunlop shortly afterwards developed a chill and, being a sufferer for years from asthma, soon contracted pneumonia, which resulted in his death.

Deceased was in his seventieth year. On April 30th last, the aged couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, when a large host of friends joined with them for the happy event. Both were born in Scotland. Mr. Dunlop came to Canada in 1902, and for a time worked in the mines at Morrissey, B.C. In 1903 he moved to Frank, and was one of the miners who helped re-open the mine immediately after the Frank slide of that year. Mrs. Dunlop and family joined him in Frank in 1905, when they decided to make their permanent home there.

During the early stages of the war, he and his three sons were among the first to volunteer for service. All went overseas, the three boys, Daniel, John and James, were killed in action in France in 1915 and 1916, all within a seven months period. Mr. Dunlop, the father, was declared unfit for service in France and was invalided back to Canada in 1918. Their four daughters are married and reside in various parts of Canada, the nearest to home Mrs. Bower, of Pincher Creek, whose husband was killed by being thrown from a horse near Pincher Creek, some years ago. The other sisters are Agnes in northern Ontario, Elizabeth in the United States and Jennie in Winnipeg.

The funeral took place from the family residence on Thursday afternoon, following a service conducted by Rev. A. E. Lark, of the United church. At the graveside in Blairmore last rites were performed by Rev. Lark and by J. R. McLeod, P.E.R., on behalf of the Elks, of which organization deceased was an honored member.

Mrs. Bower and her daughter and son, of Pincher Creek, were chief mourners at the graveside. With the bereaved widow and daughters we join in sympathy.

Lloyd B. Steeves, aged 22, who recently entered Prince Albert penitentiary to serve a three-year sentence for theft of jewelry, died in that institution on Tuesday.

At a meeting of the town council on Monday night, a delegation from the Young Communist League requested the town to call a mass meeting of citizens to protest against the jail sentences meted out at Regina to the On-to-Ottawa trekkers who took part in the Dominion Day disturbances last year. The secretary-treasurer was instructed to get in touch with different organizations in town and ascertain if the holding of such a meeting would be advisable.

At the Alberta Musical Festival, Calgary, on Wednesday, Frank Hosok, of Bellevue, carried off first in violin solo; Rudolph D'Amico, of Coleman, third. In piano duet (under 16) Freda Antrobus and Lorna Hales, of Coleman and Blairmore, first. George Kerr, of Blairmore, second in violin solo, under 23 years. Evelyn Oliver came third in piano solo open. A. R. McMurdo, Pincher Creek, was awarded the Stutchbury Cup. McMurdo sang his way to the heights of the festival adjudications Wednesday night in Knox United church. There were eight contestants.

JULY FIRST TO BE BLAIRMORE FIELD DAY

At a meeting of the Blairmore Amateur Athletic Association, held at the Cosmopolitan hotel on Wednesday evening, it was definitely decided to hold a general field day at the Blairmore athletic stadium on Dominion Day, July 1st.

Various committees were chosen to look after preliminary arrangements, publicity, programme, etc.

Special attention will be paid to improving the grounds for the occasion, and the association felt gratified at the offer of the town council to assist in this regard.

The programme will, as formerly, include foot races, jumps, baseball, softball, etc. The five-mile race will likely be eliminated.

For information, communicate with S. G. Hannan, secretary.

The Hillcrest juveniles engaged in a slugging bee with the Bellevue squad at Hillcrest on Sunday, coming out on top by an 8-5 score. Hillcrest came from behind in the fifth inning, when the score was 4-0 for the Bellevue boys, and pulled the game out of the fire with their lusty swatting. Batteries: Hillcrest—A. Bianchini and M. Robinson; Bellevue—E. Maniogo and L. Fidenato. In the return game at Bellevue on Tuesday the Hillcrest team again emerged victorious, this time by a 9-7 score. After leading 7-0 at the end of the fifth, the Hillcrest boys nearly lost their lead in the sixth, when Bellevue brought in six runs resulting from errors on the part of Hillcrest. From then on Hillcrest were never in danger. Batteries: Hillcrest—A. Davis, A. Bianchini, E. Wojtyla and M. Robinson; Bellevue—Marcolla and Fidenato. The Hillcrest juveniles will welcome games with other Pass teams. Any team wishing a game please phone the Hillcrest hotel.

PASS EIGHTEEN YEARS AGO (Blairmore Enterprise, 1918)

April 5.—The anniversary services at Central Union church on Sunday last were addressed by Rev. J. N. Wilkinson, of Pincher Creek.

Gunnar Tiber, aged 18, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. He had been in the employ of the West Canadian Collieries and was taken suddenly ill while returning from work at the mine at noon. His father had predeceased him but three months. Just the previous week he returned here from Elko, where he attended the funeral of a cousin, who died in a similar manner.

Vincent Blecho and Frank Pokorney, miners, were injured in the Frank mine on Wednesday by a fall of cap rock.

Frank Korner, a native of Germany, died at Burnie on Sunday afternoon. He was arranging to move his family to the Gibeau ranch from Frank, and was found dead near Kendrick's.

Private Gwilym Evans is reported wounded in action, and being treated in No. 11 stationary hospital at Rouen, France.

The marriage of Miss Kitty Bedford to Mr. Ralph Symes Kent took place at Lethbridge on April 2nd.

A. C. Newcombe, organizer for the High River south district for the National Council of the Military Y.M.C.A., was in town this week to effect the local organization for the 1918 campaign.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. McDowall, near Beaver Mines, was completely destroyed by fire last week. The piano was the only thing saved. Mrs. McDowall was enjoying a visit to the Pacific coast at the time.

Miss L. Murdoch took up duties as teacher at Frank on Monday.

Miss Emma Kidd returned from Vancouver on Sunday.

April 12.—Mr. J. Charbonnier, recently appointed honorary president of the Bellevue Horticultural Club, has donated $50 towards a prize for the best garden in Blairmore or Bellevue.

Miss Everly, for a time teacher here, left Tuesday for her home in Calgary, to be succeeded by Miss McKenzie, of Saskatchewan.

The remains of Gunnar Tiber were laid to rest in the Blairmore cemetery on Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. F. Hunter officiating.

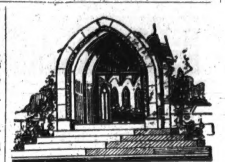

April 19.—Word has been received by Mrs. S. Evans that her son, William John Evans, a private, was reported missing in France on March the 30th.

Joe Brehler has resigned his position with Burnett & Cruickshanks at Hillcrest to take a position with the Western Canada Wholesale Co. at Fernie.

Raoul Green has purchased a Baby-Grand Chevrolet through the McLeod agency at Coleman.

Miss Margaret Walters, of Lundbreck, was successful in the recent R.N. examinations. She has been training in the Calgary General Hospital for the past three years.

Sharp criticism of the inclusion of tenor and baritone classes foreigners under nineteen years of age in a festival was made by Arthur Cranmer at the session of the Alberta Musical Festival in Calgary. "I'm speaking straight from the shoulder, because I'm frightfully interested in these young people. These competitions ought not to be allowed. It is wrong that these young men should be singing these songs at their age. They will ruin their voices in two or three years completely. There are so few good singers that it was a pity to spoil those who did possess good voices. Unlike the pianist or violinist, who can buy a new instrument when his old one wears out, the singer cannot replace the chords of his larynx, which are flesh and blood, when destroyed."

PROPOSITION MADE TO PROCESS ALBERTA COAL

Edmonton, May 18.—Proposition by which Alberta coal would be processed under a new secret and patented system and sold in huge quantities to Eastern Canada and the United States markets in many forms was outlined to Premier Aberhart and his cabinet on Saturday by Albert Grant, of Montreal, head of the Grant Engineering Company Limited, which holds North American rights to the process.

Mr. Grant, an engineer of wide experience, which included a time as adviser to the Soviet government, was presented to the cabinet by Percy John Rowe, of Edmonton, Social Credit member of the house of commons for Athabasca and head of the federal Social Credit caucusing committee engaged in seeking new industries for Alberta.

No announcement of the details was made following the conference.

ISSUE 100,000 STRIP MAPS ALBERTA HIGHWAYS

Hot off the press, 100,000 new strip maps which have been prepared by the Alberta Motor Association are now being distributed to all official appointments of the A.M.A.

These new maps, brought up to date in every particular from government records showing work done up to the end of 1935, are available at hotels, garages and also at branch offices of the Motor Association.

A wealth of valuable information for the tourist is contained in a set of these maps. Routes to follow to particular holiday spots, places where the fish bite best, popular tourist resorts and regulations concerning tourists and motorists are set out with care and clarity.

This year a big tourist rush to this province is anticipated, making it certain that there will be a heavy demand for the maps and other touring information supplied by the A.M.A.

B. P. McEwen, of Lethbridge, is figuring on returning to his old stamping ground—in Coleman, where for a number of years he carried on successfully in the premises in the Cameron block at present occupied by Mr. Powell. Mr. McEwen hopes to occupy the premises recently vacated by S. W. Chauley.

Going To Antarctic

Former Pilot On Byrd Expeditions Is Planning Trip

Harold I. Jone, formerly of Bristol, chief pilot on two Byrd Antarctic expeditions, and Lincoln Ellsworth, flyer-explorer, are planning a joint expedition to the South Pole to discover what is thought to be the last remaining continent in the world, 60,000 square miles never seen by man.

Announcement of the new expedition, which may not leave for two or three years, or until new ice exploration equipment is perfected, was made at Providence, R.I., by Jone.

"The new continent is an area about one-third the size of Australia and is on a straight line through the South Pole from Little America, on the other side of the world," Jone said. "No man has ever seen this territory, but we believe it offers the last bit of uncharted land on the globe."

Carbon Monoxide Poisoning

Doctor Explains How Gas From Automobile Constitutes Danger

The traffic cop at a busy intersection who irritably blows his whistle and gruffly hands out tickets for minor infractions may be suffering from inhaling too much carbon monoxide, one of the elements in the automobile exhaust.

Or if a man suddenly starts quarrelling with his family, worrying about his job, and even threatening suicide—all for no apparent reason—he may have too much of the gas in his blood.

Small amounts of carbon monoxide inhaled over long periods cause chronic poisoning and result in physical as well as mental ailments, Dr. Harvey G. Beck, of Baltimore, explained.

Dr. Beck was one of more than 7,000 delegates at Kansas City who attended the American Medical Association's 78th annual convention.

City dwellers can't step outdoors at the average busy street intersection to escape the gas and get fresh air, Dr. Beck said.

"It has been demonstrated that traffic patrolmen after eight hours exposure will reach a danger point in their blood saturation," he explained.

Only one per cent. of carbon monoxide in the atmosphere causes acute poisoning and usually results in instantaneous death. Chronic poisoning causes anxiety, depression, fears, introversion, and emotional upheavals, Dr. Beck said.

The mental alertness of the driver of an automobile is dimmed through inhaling small quantities of the gas, he said, contributing to the causes for many accidents.

More Employment

Many Countries Report Better Employment Conditions

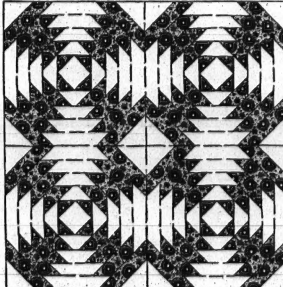

A world-wide drop in unemployment was reported by the International Labor organization. Canada, Great Britain, Germany, Japan, Australia, Belgium, Norway, Poland, Sweden, Chile, France, Finland, Estonia, South Africa and Luxembourg—along with the United States—were among the countries where the number of jobless decreased from March, 1935, to March, 1936.

New York's Latest Craze

Train Carries People To Country For Bicycle Riding

Those who pictured New Yorkers as incapable of being torn away from theatres and night clubs revised their opinion last winter when ski trains hauled 12,000 on a single week-end to the snow slopes of the Adirondacks.

The illusion is again shattered by the inauguration of a "bicycle train" service. On a recent Sunday the first bicycle train of the season carried 222 cycling enthusiasts to a rural district of Massachusetts, waited while they "wheeled" merrily over a 20-mile course among the violet and cowslip-sprinkled valleys and then whiffed them back to the city in time for a good night's recuperation before the toils of Monday.

It was reported as a day rich in the enjoyment of nature and exercise. A season's solitary outdoor student might find fault with the arrangement, since a cyclist accompanying 221 others, noisily chattering, is not exactly alone with Nature, but 221 are considerably less than 7,000,000, and doubtless to a New Yorker a country area containing as few people as that is practically a vacuum.

As for exercises, the excursion left nothing to be desired. Any one out of training who rides a bicycle 26 miles knows he has been some place. Poundage was noticeably reduced—the purpose for which some went—muscles were toned up, and many a fine charlie horse acquired to serve as a reminder of the outing during the week to follow.

More joy to the New York outers.—Detroit News.

Displayed Rare Tact

After-Dinner Speaker Corrected Error In Clever Way

Waterloo Bridge, masterpiece of London's great eighteenth-century engineer, John Rennie, spanning the river Thames close to Parliament Buildings, and now being rebuilt, offers a new example of professional tact.

An architect—with London's greatest exponent of his own particular craft, Sir Christopher Wren, in his thoughts—in an after-dinner speech accidentally included Waterloo Bridge among buildings for which this famous builder of fine structures was responsible.

An engineer guest was called upon to reply. If he corrected the slip his architect host might feel humiliated. If he allowed it to pass he might seem to belittle the achievements of one of the greatest lights in his own profession. Humbly, therefore, he said: "The last speaker has rightly exalted Wren; so endeared is he to us engineers that we affectionately style him '(W) rennie'!"—Christian Science Monitor.

New Safety Device

An "elastic" barrier is being tried out in Berlin on a steep hill to protect motorists from going over the edge. Two steel ropes are stretched at the height of a motor car's wheels along the dangerous side of the road, and are fastened to iron posts at either end by wire springs.

The Battle of New Orleans was fought more than a month after the signing of peace in the War of 1812 between England and America.

South Africa is trying to stop the rural youth migration to cities.

Do You Ever Wonder

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Ask Your Doctor and Find Out

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headache is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about "ASPIRIN."

He will tell you that before the discovery of "Aspirin" most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate "Aspirin" among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headache and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experienced judgment of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this:

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. They are the registered trademark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

Extraordinary Dresses

Canton Police Place Stamp On Many Girls' Clothing

Daring young ladies of Canton who appear on the streets with bare arms may continue to do so if their garb bears the label "extraordinary dress." One hundred girls, mainly university co-eds, who sought to emulate the dress example of their western sisters, were rounded up recently by police and charged with violating the law prohibiting bare arms. They were lectured by magistrates, then permitted to go forth after a rubber stamp reading "extraordinary dress" had been applied to their clothes.

Pineapple Tariff Cut

Reduction in the tariff on canned pineapples from Australia was announced in a departmental bulletin issued by Hon. J. L. Halsey, revenue minister. Under the Australian agreement of 1921 these were admitted under a duty of one cent per pound. From April 14 this commodity will enter from Australia duty free.

Suffered years bad headaches and Constipation!

Quick relief from FRUIT-A-TIVES and troubles have not come back.

"For many years I suffered from severe headaches and constipation. Then I read of Fruit-a-tives and tried them. They brought quick relief. Now I am never bothered as I used to be, for I know Fruit-a-tives can always make me fit and healthy."—Mrs. J. Longway, Guelph. Fruit-a-tives are the discovery of a famous Canadian doctor. They contain concentrated extracts of nature's fruits and herbs. They tend to induce normal function of elimination organs and tend to tone up the entire system. A fair trial of Fruit-a-tives will convince you.

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

Golden text: In your patience ye shall win your souls. Luke 21:19

Lesson: Luke 20:1-21, 38.

Devotional reading: I Timothy 6: 11-19.

Explanations and Comments

A Prophecy of the Fall of Jerusalem and of the Second Advent, Luke 21:35-38. Some of the people present began to talk about the wonderful stones and fine offerings that adorned the temple. Matthew says that it was one of the disciples who drew Jesus' attention to the glories of the temple. The stones in the foundation were enormous, and there were columns fifty feet in height of one block of marble. "The gifts to the temple were many and costly, from the great ones of the earth; a table from Ptolemy, a chair from Agrippa, a golden vine from Herod the Great. The temple was famous for its wealth."

The days will come, Jesus prophesied, in which there shall not be left one stone of the temple upon another, that shall not be thrown down. This prediction was literally fulfilled forty years later. Josephus, writing about the destruction of Jerusalem says: "The Jews gave orders to demolish the whole city and temple, except the highest tower, and the wall. All the rest of the city was so thoroughly laid even with the ground by those that dug it up, that the foundation, that there was left, was not more than a few feet high. The Jews believed that it had been built on a rock. On the ninth day of Ab, the Talmud says, 'the city of Jerusalem was ploughed up.'"

A Call to Understanding: Living. Our Scripture selections for today's study are taken from what has been called Jesus' eschatological discourse. Our first selection seems to have specific reference to the destruction of Jerusalem only, and the last chapter seems to be a mixture of things that event with some other in a way that is rather difficult to follow.

But the advice and admonition in this first section is plain enough. In the midst of rumors of destruction and great disturbances in the thoughts of men, Jesus advises his followers to be steady and trustful and not let themselves be misled by the unduly frightened. Wholesome, helpful, rational matter-of-fact advice it was, but suited well to the occasion. Jesus is not advising, let it be understood, his followers are not interested in these great things of the world which he sees coming, but he insists that even in face of them they ought not to get discouraged, but possess their souls in trust and patience and live lives of faithfulness and service. Those to whom the things of the spirit are the great things should be able to do this.

First flowers to be sown are those very hardy kinds which naturally reproduce themselves in Canada, such as Cosmos, Calceolarias, Poppies, Alyssum, Calendula and Candytuft. In the second group are the Zinnia, Marigold, Nasturtium, Stocks, Aster and Petunia, which do not stand serious frost, and of the tender things which must be held back until all danger of freezing is over, are the Dahlias, Cannas and Gladioli. As the latter are all bulbs and do not come up until a week or so after planting, they may be risked with a few days of the average really warm weather. One is well advised to save a little seed of each variety from all plantings in order to fill in inevitable "gaps" caused by drought, washings or other things beyond control. In the perennial flower bed there will also be gaps where winter-killing has occurred. These may be filled in with quick-growing annuals.

Seed should not be sown too deep and plants should not be allowed to grow too close together. Very fine seed like that of the poppy and alyssum, for instance, is best mixed with a little sand and the mixture sown, otherwise the seed will not go very far and will be put in much too close together. With such small seed merely pressing into finely prepared soil will be sufficient. The general rule is to sow to a depth of three times the diameter of the seed. This will mean pressing in most flowers, like the Dahlias, and Gladioli may be put down quite a piece, from four inches to three feet between rows, merely pressed well into the soil and raked lightly over, best buried about half an inch and beans and peas about an inch. Thinning of such flowers and vegetables is most important after the plants are up an inch or so. With flowers a good rule is to have half as much space between the plants as they will be high. This will be about a foot between ordinary Marigolds, Petunias and Asters, two to three feet between Cosmos and Dahlias, but only an inch or so separating tiny Alyssum, Lobelia and other edging plants. Well spaced flowers will be more sturdy and thus resist heavy wind and rain. Even the smallest vegetables such as lettuce and radish must be thinned too. An inch or so will be sufficient and that is also the room that will be needed for carrots and beets, because when these things have developed roots an inch thick and two or three long, every other plant should be removed and used, and this procedure followed until the whole row is used up.

SYNOPSIS

The story opens with Link Fleming addressing a meeting of Boone County cattlemen called together with the object of forming an irrigation company.

The meeting terminates, but Buzz Hamilton and his sister, Helen, Link and Kigo stay behind and Helen asks Fleming questions about his irrigation plan. This angers Buzz, who accuses Fleming of trying to influence his sister and, in a fit of anger, he shoots at Fleming. Fleming is shot in the stomach, and Fleming is uninjured. Buzz is arrested and sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Helen and Fleming form a partnership to provide irrigation for their own properties.

Fleming goes home and studies the plans drawn by Torney to learn whether they could be adapted to a smaller scheme suitable for his and Helen's land, and is satisfied it could be done. Feeling odd, he lights the fire and there is an explosion which wrecks the house, burns it and the plans and renders Link unconscious. He is rescued from the blaze by an employee.

Buzz Hamilton arrives back in Rawhide while Fleming and Helen are in the bank getting a loan for payment of wages for work on the dam. Roper Kigo and Jackpot tell him and he goes into the saloon with them. By the time his sister and Link come from the bank, Buzz has had several drinks. Roper has distorted the facts concerning the dam proposal to Buzz, making it appear that Link was trying to ruin him. Buzz, inflamed with liquor and anger, tries to throttle Fleming, but is thrown to the floor. Then Helen appears and tells Fleming she has been robbed of $500 they had obtained from the bank.

On their arrival home they were met by a couple of Link's workmen, who told Fleming that there was a strike at the dam, and that the men were afraid they would not get their wages. Link told them of the robbery and promised them their money as soon as possible. The men reluctantly returned to work.

Fleming finds Roper and Jackpot "Mell" making "Mell" among his workmen, and orders them off his place at the point of his gun. Both Jackpot and Roper swear revenge. Mell telling Fleming to carry his gun with him, as Mell would shoot him the next time they met.

(Now Go On With The Story)

ers supported this with similar statements, and the remainder of the group, a dozen strong, looked belligerent.

Fleming glanced toward the scene of the accident—if it could possibly be an accident, which he strongly doubted. "It ain't," he said slowly. "You're all yellow. Scared to went here, just because a couple of men got hurt by something that couldn't be foreseen."

"Boys, I told McLenodon to take every precaution for safety. Buster Townsend got the same instructions. Hey, Mac, isn't that so?" He saw the engineer coming toward him after personally seeing that Orin and Jimmie Dooley were started toward the Star loop.

McLenodon nodded. "I think I've done everything a man could," he said briefly, and hurried a withering look at the quitters.

"Well, they're yellow, Mac. They want their dolls. They're going home to sleep."

"Now, that ain't it, Fleming. We ain't scared. But—"

"But what, Ferguson? If you have anything to say, say it!"

The self-appointed leader shifted uneasily, hoping one of his fellows would speak up. But none did. "It's pay, mainly. And we been workin' long enough. We're quittin'." They want our money."

Fleming regarded him quizzically. "You want your wages to take home now, is that it? You're not out to earn all you can for that wife of yours, eh? Satisfied to earn a little while she takes in washing. She's worth four of you, Ferguson, and I say it is unlucky she ever met you. You're lazy, no account. Don't deserve an honest, pretty woman like you got. You never gave her a square deal yet, and if Mac hadn't stopped all liquor over here you'd be drunk same as you are at Rawhide now, is that it?"

He spat disgustedly. "Your type is a quitter anyhow. You're no good to anybody, especially your wife and yourself. All right, you don't quit here. You're fired!"

The charges Link made were true, as every man listening knew full well. He spat disgustedly. "Your type is a quitter anyhow. You're no good to anybody, especially your wife and yourself. All right, you don't quit here. You're fired!"

The wily little Irishman he addressed was pale with pain. But with the buoyancy of his race he grinned wryly. "Feel like one of 'em thin Egyptian mummies, Mister Fleming. Only I guess they ain't got busted legs like I have, eh?"

Link examined the man's injuries and found that he had an arm broken three inches below the elbow, feet and legs crushed by dirt and pebbles, and a bad bruise in his side. He was not dangerously injured, however, unless internally, which could not yet be determined.

When he made sure of arrangements going forward to take the pair by wagon to his own ranch, Link for the first time noticed that the remaining workers stood around in an attitude of surly indecision. "Well, boys?"

One, bolder than the rest, stepped forward. "We don't like the way things are goin' around here," he growled. "We want our pay. We're quittin' now."

For an instant Link did not know what reply to make. Several labor-rimmed finger nails. "I don't mind workin' another day or two for yuh, Link. That is, if I'm gonna get cash when it's over."

"Saw what I gave Ferguson?"

"Yeah."

"There'll be more where that came from. I've kept my steers free just to take care of you hombres, and I'm sellin' 'em tomorrow. That means cash at least before sunset. Ought to satisfy the crowd of you."

"But say," objected a grizzled individual who wore the habilitations of a miner, "we need twice as many guys workin' here!"

There was some truth in this. Fleming frowned and fingered his chin, glancing at McLenodon. He could not think where it might be possible to get more men with the whole of Boone County hostile to his project. "Boys, we're nearly to the end of this job. I'll pay double for overtime, so there's a good chance for you to make some real money!"

"And cash when?" persisted another individual. "Double time's no good until we get it!"

"You'll get it. Cash up to date tomorrow. I don't mean the next day nor next week. Tomorrow! That's definite I reckon? Now," he demanded, eyeing the crowd before him, "how about it? Who's quittin' and who's workin'?"

"I'm quittin'."

"Me too." Two men stepped forward. "I've had enough of yore damned quarry, Fleming," one declared with unexpected spirit. "But mainly I don't expect yuh'll ever pay a cent. Once this dam's goin' yuh'll forget every man jack of us."

No hint of inner troubledness showed as he looked at the remaining crowd of workers who with Buster McLenodon, and the man driving the injured pair to the Star Loop, comprised the staff. "Anybody else?"

For answer three shuffled away and picked up their tools. After some indecision and considerable growling, others were again on the job. Link took McLenodon aside. "I sure appreciate you doin' your best, Mac. And the fact that Helen and I owe you two months' pay and never heard a word about it since the day you came."

The other stirred uneasily. I know you're a square shooter, Fleming," he paused. "Somebody around here spreads dissatisfaction among the men. They keep growling and complaining. This work is no harder than any other, but they keep worryin' that you won't find the money to pay them."

Link looked troubled. "How about Buster Townsend?"

"Townsend?" What do you mean? He tries to do his job."

"Ever see him wearing leather cuffs with rivets formed like a scur-de-lis?"

McLenodon blinked. "Yes," he said slowly, "I think I have. I'm sure of it. Why?"

"Thanks, Mac. I'll have a talk with Buster." Turning away, Link found his ranch foreman squinting at blueprints. No one was within earshot.

"Where's that pair of cuffs you used to wear?" he inquired. "I've been glancing at the barnyard arms with sleeves rolled up."

"Huh? Oh, them! Darned if I know. Yes," Townsend added quickly. "I guess one of 'em in the back up about a week the other a couple days ago. Why?"

For answer his employer whipped out his forty-five. Its muzzle pressed hard against the foreman's stomach. "You held up Helen Hamilton yesterday, just outside Rawhide?" he charged angrily. "Where's the money? Buster, I never thought you'd doublecross me!"

Astonishment flooded the other's leathery countenance and he glanced down at the threatening slug. But there was no trace of fear showing, only hurt plainly evident.

"You're wrong, Link," he declared. "I pulled no holdup yesterday or any other time. I've worked for yuh faithful as any man could. Yes, and last fall I got shot for yuh, too."

There was a moment of tense silence. "Mac" called Fleming over his shoulder. The engineer approached, his eyes wide in wonder at the gun covering Townsend. "Was Buster working here yesterday morning, or was he gone for awhile?"

The man hesitated while he searched the faces of the pair standing tense before him. "Why, sure he was here! Buster and I were wrangling over some blueprints. In fact, he proved that I'd miscalculated live-eighths of an inch. You see, on those supports for—"

"Him. All right." Abruptly he holstered his gun. He waited for the engineer to leave, a wondering expression on his sober face. Then Fleming extended his hand. "Sorry, Buster. Really I'm tensed up about this thing. But how did your cuffs get on the holdup?—Helen

An Unusual Accident

Boy Killed When Tent Rope Flung
Then 150 Yards

Calculated over the roofs of a row of houses when caught in a tree-feller's guide rope at Carleton Place, Englad, 11-year-old Stanley Parish was hurled a distance of 150 yards and almost instantly killed when his descending body crashed through a garden fence.

With 200 other children he had been watching the feller. The tree had been sawn nearly through, and the men were pulling it with a rope.

"With a loud crack, it crashed to the ground, and at the same instant a guide-rope which had been used to prevent the tree falling on a house became taut.

A second later something went hurtling through the air and over the roofs of the houses.

At that time it was thought it was the body of the tree. Then the on-lookers realized it was the boy as they saw the wind catch his overcoat and flutter it out.

Felix Willard, who had been watching nearby, said: "The boy soared through the air like a rocket. He was at least 40 feet high, and appeared just to miss a branch of another tree and to clear the chimney-pots."

2,851 Claims During Fiscal Year

A total of 2,851 pension claims were granted by the Canadian pension commission in Ottawa during the last fiscal year. Lt.-Col. B. C. Topp, chief pension advocate, told the commonsense committee on ex-service men's problems. Those not granted numbered 6,468, of which 50 per cent. were accepted by the applicants. The remainder were referred by the claimants to the pension quorum.

In the preceding fiscal year 3,359 pensions were granted and 9,878 rejected by the commission.

Fishing Pact Agreement

Canadian And American Interests
Get Together On Treaty

Canadian and American fishing interests have reached an agreement on ratification of the 1930 sockeye salmon treaty which Canada ratified, but which failed to pass the United States Senate.

The agreement was effected through compromises which provided for creation of an advisory committee in the treaty and delegation of wide regulatory powers to the commission. The committee would be composed of 10 members, five from each country.

The conference voted that if amendments proposed to the treaty should prove unacceptable to the governments, then it would favor acceptance of another treaty.

Little Helps For This Week

Therefore I take pleasure in informatics, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake, for when I am weak then I am strong. 2 Cor. 12:10.

Whatever I do I do as well; In patience let us wait; He told Himself our burdens bear; He does for us take care, And He, our God, knows all our weary days. Come, give Him praise.

Nothing, but seeing God in everything, will make us loving and patient with those who annoy and trouble us. They will be to us then only the instruments for accomplishing His tender and wise purpose towards us, and we shall even then find ourselves at last inwardly thanking them for the blessings they bring us. Nothing else will completely put an end to all murmuring and rebellious thoughts.

A BIG DIFFERENCE

Hon. Ernest Manning, provincial treasurer, spent his honeymoon in the northwestern section of the United States. On his return he told of sales taxes imposed by several states and said there seemed to be no great hub-bub raised about them.

But Mr. Manning failed to point out that Alberta people pay a double sales tax, 8 per cent to the federal government and 2 per cent to the Alberta government. This condition does not prevail in the United States. There they have no federal sales tax.

Aside from this important angle, Mr. Manning never recalled that the Alberta Social Credit government had given specific promises not to increase taxation prior to the election. Surely a Christian government should have some ethics in this matter, even though ordinary political parties are somewhat negligent.

The incontrovertible fact remains that taxation has been increased substantially, the cost of living has gone up and no dividends are in the offing. —Hanna Herald.

Research work is being carried on to determine what is the oldest joke in the world. The Olio suggests "Elect me and I'll reduce taxes" dates a long way back.

He was a native of Waterville, West River, Pictou County, N.S., and is survived by his widow and one daughter.

Yet in this province a distorted influence is at work which if continued will have the effect of influencing people with weak wills to consider that a debt is an obligation no longer to be honored. Money was borrowed by this province (not thrust upon it) to make improvements. The province hadn't the money, consequently it was sought in outside money markets, and borrowed on specified terms as to repayment with interest. Highways were built, public buildings were erected, many services were carried on with borrowed money. But now there is a complaint on the part of the premier of the crushing burden of interest which he would reduce by compulsion and break the contracts under which the province borrowed the money. It cannot be called repudiation, he states, but "technical default." Disguise it by whatever name he will, it is a repudiated agreement, if the original terms are not carried out, especially when it is done without consulting the creditors as to the terms of settlement. There are all too many who regard debts lightly, and who are willing to seize on any excuse to ignore their financial obligations. Premier Aberhart in playing to the gallery for popular support and in drawing a red herring across the trail of his promises to pay $25 monthly with no increased taxation, is using very bad judgment and undermining the credit of the province. It can only lead to further loss of confidence and prestige in the eyes of people who are not swayed by religious emotion and mere appeals. —Coleman Journal.

SOCIAL CREDIT TIES

UP IRISHMAN'S CASH

Edmonton, May 16.—The Irish are getting ready to battle. "I'm going to raise Cain!" It was 75-year-old William John Kelly speaking as he pushed his hat to the back of his head and shook a threatening fist into the lens as a camera clicked.

"It took me 14 years of darn hard work on my Ribstone, Alberta, ranch to make that $101,500, and I'm going to get it, or know the reason why," he stormed.

Back in Edmonton from Vancouver, where he has been living in retirement since 1917, William John Kelly tried to raise $2711.17, his $101,500 hoard which is salted away in Alberta Government savings certificates, payment on which has been suspended by Premier Aberhart.

Interviewing officials all up the line to the provincial treasurer, the Hon. Charles Crockford, the ex-Alberta rancher was unable to pry even a five-cent piece from the government coffers.

Payment on all savings certificates has been suspended, and that ended the matter.

Dominion government offices, to which Rancher Kelly is obligated to the sum of $2711.17, declined to honor a written assurance that the sum would be paid on May 10 when the interest on the savings certificates fails due.

On that date, the provincial treasury department assured Rancher Kelly the interest would be paid, but he could write for the principal.

From a farm near Peterboro, Ontario, Kelly came to Ribstone, Alberta, in 1907 and launched into a money-making career of mixed farming and ranching.

In the 14 years he worked the land, he cleaned up $6500, and sold out in 1917 for $45,000 more.

"I invested the money in small amounts—$5000 at a time, in Alberta savings certificates at five per cent interest," he explained. "Three years ago they asked me to re-invest it all for a four-year period. I did this, putting the money into 'payable-on-demand' certificates." —Dick Jackson, C.C.P. Correspondent.

Since the above appeared in the daily press, word comes from Edmonton to the effect that on May 19th Kelly was paid $3,000 on account of principal and $5,375 on interest to date. The payment is the largest made by the province since payment on certificates was suspended last August. J. E. Brownlee, K.C., former premier of Alberta, represented Kelly in the negotiations.

There will be a small fee of perhaps a dollar or thereabout per family. It is understood that the smaller children will be privileged to have full use of the courts for an hour or so every day, that they might play unmolested by the big girls and boys, and in this way encourage good sportsmanship in them.

$100 WORTH FREE OF DUTY

For the information of the public we reproduce below the actual wording of the statutory exemption in connection with the entry of goods up to an amount of $100 by returning tourists from abroad.

"Goods valued at not more than one hundred dollars included in the baggage, accompanying residents of Canada returning from abroad after an absence from Canada of not less than forty-eight hours and acquired by them for personal or household use as souvenirs or gifts, but not bought on commission or as an accommodation for other persons or for sale, under regulations prescribed by the Minister—free.

Provided that a resident of Canada shall not be entitled to the exemption herein granted within a period of four months from the date of the last exemption allowed, nor shall the exemption be allowed on alcoholic beverages in excess of fifty cigars, two hundred cigarettes and two pounds of manufactured tobacco."

This exemption applies to travellers returning from any country.

Sneak thieves broke into the Fernie curling rink recently, getting away with a number of rock sets and several of the boxes. They will no doubt be hoping to realize cash for them and will be caught.

His Honor Lieutenant-Governor W. H. Covert and Mrs. Covert, of Nova Scotia, have been invited by Sir Percy Bates, Bart., G.B.E., chairman of the Cunard-White Star line, to be present at the dinner being served on board the Queen Mary in New York on the second of June.

LICENSING THE TRAN- SIENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN

Last week an objection was placed before the City Council by a Drumheller optometrist, who requested that the licensing of men of similar vocation, visiting the city from Calgary for the purpose of practising their profession, be treated the same as if a Drumheller optometrist reversed the situation and sought business in Calgary. Calgary levies a license fee of one hundred dollars each six months; Drumheller fifteen dollars for the year. The Council has promised that the matter will receive consideration upon receipt of a copy of the Calgary by-law which has reference to visiting optometrists and opticians—and rightly so.

Just previous to forsaking Drumheller for his new location at the Pacific coast, Mr. T. R. Hughes (now ex-Councillor Hughes) brought up a similar situation regarding the intrusion of printing salesmen from Eastern Canada, who comb the district about twice or three times per year. Mr. Hughes put up a reasonable argument before the Council; a brief discussion ensued, but nothing was done. None of the local printers and publishers followed up Mr. Hughes' lead, and probably this was a mistake. However, these fellows from outside continue to come in and make the situation tougher for the local printers, who collectively pay well over one thousand dollars per year to the City in residence, business and business property taxes. Printing salesmen coming here from other cities pay no tax or fee whatever; they get the "cream" of the business and take Drumheller money for developing Eastern Canadian industries.

The situation seems to be the same all over the west, as will be seen from the following editorial called from the Salmon Arm (B.C.) Observer:

"Spring weather has brought out a host of travellers for printing, and Salmon Arm has had its share of them. May we say that we appreciate the attitude of the majority of our businessmen in declining to discuss business with these visitors.

"The city derives little benefit from them. They pay no taxes or licenses; they spend only the price of a meal or two; they contribute nothing to the churches, lodges, sports, clubs or entertainments; they spend nothing in our stores."

"While these facts are quite serious, we would mention that invariably their prices are considerably higher in spite of their continued stories that they can always undersell the local printer. We saw one of their invoices for $4 for an article which we sell at $2.75. Not long ago they sold one party goods costing $34.50, and our price was under $30. In another instance our price was $35 and theirs $45. Again we found them quoting $55 on printing for which we charged $32 and in another case the price was $100.75 against our $85. We could multiply these over and over....

"Our businessmen are invited at anytime to visit our plant and satisfy themselves of what we say. But please do not send us statements which are printed elsewhere than in Salmon Arm. It does not help to smooth our temper."—Ex.

The League and World Security

Have the League of Nations proved a failure? Have the efforts of millions of people to put into effect the principle of collective security for the nations of the earth been abortive? Should the League, in the light of recent events, be abandoned and allowed to die? In fact, is the League already gagged, helpless and practically defunct?

These are questions which are agitating the minds of peace-loving people in all the countries of the world to-day. Many who saw the birth of the League a few years ago as an insurance policy against future confagurations between the nations are now shaking their heads sorrowfully and are on the verge of abandoning hope. They are fearful that the nations are to revert to former practices and policies of "dog eat dog and the devil take the hindmost."

It is pointed out by these pessimists that to date the League has two apparent failures to its credit, or should it be said, to its discredit? They refer to the inactivity of the League when Japan two or three years ago was allowed to launch unhampered an aggressive campaign to bring Chinese territory under control—a process which is still being carried on, and more recently the failure of the League's attempt to stem the victorious march of Mussolini's troops into Ethiopia, by the application of economic sanctions.

It is true that Mussolini appears to have achieved his immediate objective and not only conquered Ethiopia, but has also annexed the country as an adjunct to the Italian crown, despite the efforts of those countries which remained in the League to prevent Italy from gathering the fruits of her lawless enterprise.

The fact, however, should not be overlooked that while Italy has so far succeeded in her ambitious program of conquest in Africa, the nations have not yet withdrawn sanctions against her and that by the continued application of this form of pressure it is still possible to force the victor to disgorge, if not all, at least a portion of the spoils of an illegal war.

In other words the flouted members of the League still have it within their power to demonstrate to Mussolini that international lawlessness does not pay. All that is needed, as pointed out recently by the Winnipeg Tribune, is decisiveness. "The members of the League," said the Tribune, "can, by showing a little courage and determination at this juncture make it more of a living and vital force than it has ever been," but this newspaper adds, "unless they show some courage and determination in the present circumstances the League of Nations and collective security will vanish like the mists of yesterday."

The Tribune further points out that Mussolini after all has only won the first race and "is still racing against time in the application of the economic sanctions which are slowly but surely strangling Italy into submission. He cannot win that race unless the League members weaken and allow him to escape from the inexorable pressure."

There are very good reasons why wavering faith in the League should be restored. One of them is the urgent desire of the great masses of the people in the majority of the countries of the world for peace and security, so essential if economic recovery and progress is to be made. All that is necessary is for there people to strengthen the hands of their representatives by impressing upon them this viewpoint.

Another and very potent reason is the necessity for continuance and strengthening of the League and its powers if civilization is to be preserved. There is no blinking the fact that the majority of the European nations are arming to the teeth and that in some cases at least, conquest and subjugation are unrevealed motives. If that is true, a strong League is the only hope of security from further aggressions which may well involve the entire world.

Warnings of this very grave danger have recently been uttered by some of the outstanding statesmen of several countries and they are warnings that should not go unheeded.

That such a war is not only possible but "inevitable" is the opinion of General Ludendorff of Germany who makes this very clear in his new book whose very title is significant, "The Total War." According to a commentator on this book in Les Annales de Paris, Ludendorff only admits a war which engages the existence of the entire nation—men, women and children; in other words, a war conducted without mercy, "its only aim being the total annihilation of the enemy."

Apparently a strengthened and revived League is the only hope of security the nations can expect against such "a war of frightfulness."

Demonstrates Plastic Surgery

Doctor Fashions New Ear From Portion Of Rib

Taking part of a human rib to build a new and shapely ear by plastic surgery was demonstrated to the American Medical Association at Kansas City by Earl C. Padgett, M.D.

The piece of rib, taken from the cartilage at the base of a rib, forms the shell-shaped framework for the synthetic ear. The skin to cover this cartilage, and to form the soft "flesh" constituting the ear's outer border, is taken from the neck.

Afterward the skin thus lent to the neck is replaced by skin taken from the thigh so that no neck scar is apparent.

The skin from the neck upon which depends the final sightliness of the new ear is moved by detouring it first to the temple by the plastic method known as the pedicle flap which resembled the handle of a suitcase. After this flap has been attached by one end to the temple area so that it gets its blood supply from that point by contact, it is ready to be dropped down over the new ear structure and be moulded into place.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out 200 pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food does not digest. It is not in the bowels. You get constipated. Harsh and painful pills are taken. The liver is not working. A new liver movement does "always get" the case. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes time. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills to get this two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harshness and gentleness, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a colon but have no colon or mercury in them. Ask your doctor's Little Liver Pills. Small. Substantially more anything else. 25c.

May Develop Native Army

Mussolini Would Like To Train Men Of Ethiopia

Development of the greatest native army in history is believed to be Premier Mussolini's intention now that Addis Ababa is "an Italian city" and the occupation of all of Ethiopia is in sight. Marshal Pietro Badoglio's communications time and again talked of the desperate courage of the Ethiopians. They charged into machine guns until they were literally wiped out. Offered by European officers who would lead them, not push them, into battle, following an artillery and machine gun barrage, against any enemy whose positions had been thoroughly scouted from the air, they would prove a tremendous force.

Italy's colonial military experience of 50 years would serve her in good stead in developing a big Ethiopian army. The objection might not be made that the Ethiopians might not fight for the Italians. That remains to be seen, especially after a certain lapse of time. Initial recruiting would probably begin among the races that have lived in subjection to Addis Ababa and in smouldering hostility to the emperor.

Destroys Bacteria

New Device That Will Be Of Assistance In Operations

Invention of a new type of cool germ-killing rays that destroys floating bacteria about the patient on an operating table was announced to the American Association of Thoracic Surgery by Deryl H. Hart, M.D., of Duke University Medical School.

The rays come from long, slender tubes framing the light above the operating table. Their rays were selected wavelengths of ultra-violet—which kill air-borne germs in 60 seconds, but do not burn human beings.

The tubes were designed by Dr. Robert F. James and Dr. Harvey Kentschler of the Westinghouse Lamp Company.

Must Discard Old Clocks

Los Angeles has ordered 200,000 sixty-cycle clocks to replace the present 50-cycle time keepers that will be outmoded as soon as the Boulder Dam electric system gets into operation. Otherwise the old clocks with the new 60-cycle impulse would make the citizens spend up to 20 per cent. faster than previously.

Have Seen Great Changes

Two Halifax Ladies Remember Days Of Sailing Vessels

Two elderly Halifax women—their ages total 197 years—look forward with interest to the maiden voyage of the super-liner Queen Mary.

Both of them are something in the nature of ancient mariners. Mrs. Fanny Lenor is the only person living who set foot on the little steamer Britannia when it sailed into Halifax harbor on its first voyage in 1840.

The other elderly seafarer, Mrs. Loring W. Bailey, crossed the Atlantic ocean from Liverpool to Halifax on the Cambria, a side-wheeler with sails 87 years ago. Both were six years old when they stood on the decks of their vessels.

Passage of years has not dimmed the memories of her first ocean crossing for Mrs. Bailey. Her father came to Canada to become chief superintendent of education in New Brunswick, she recalled.

Cheery and still active in spite of her 103 years, Mrs. Lenor remembered the arrival of the little Britannia vividly. She folded her arms and recalled the excitement of old Halifax in 1840.

"Word got around the Britannia was coming up the harbor," she related. "I was only a child but my mother gave my sister Lucy and me permission to go down to meet it. We lived not far from the wharf."

She told how a "gentleman in a tall silk hat," came down from the boat and took her sister and herself aboard. "My it was exciting," the old lady exclaimed.

Mrs. Lenor has seen the ocean steamers change from wood to steel and expressed keen interest in the new liner Queen Mary. "It would be wonderful to see it," she said.

Will Appeal To Travellers

Air-Conditioning Of Trains Will Mean Greater Comfort

One of the irritations of railroad travel was the dust and smoke that filled nostrils and eyes and smudged faces and clothes. Railway officials talked much but did little about remedying the condition. It is gratifying to note that they have now set out in earnest to cure the defect. It is announced that on all main lines of the C.N.R. the coaches are to be air-conditioned. Most U.S. lines have already installed this equipment.

The public will be as ready to praise the development as it was to criticize previous indifference. Air-conditioning will not only bring in pure air free from cinders and smoke, but will keep interior temperature cool in summer and warm in winter.

It is by devising and installing comforts of this nature that the railways may hope to win back the good-will and patronage which has been lost. There are many obvious advantages to train travel and these can be capitalized if made sufficiently attractive.—Toronto Telegram.

Cannot Live Abroad

Queen Of Netherlands Not Allowed To Marry Foreigner

Princess Juliana celebrated her 27th birthday on April 30, with all the Netherlands wondering when and if the plump, vigorous heiress to the throne would marry.

The people made no secret, in public conversations of their desire to see Juliana marry and these popularity of the princess has intensified the wish for a royal wedding.

Where to find a suitable prince-consort, however, remained a difficult question.

The Netherlands constitution expressly precludes marriage to a queen to a foreign sovereign or his heir apparent, and the queen may live nowhere except in her own country.

Body Of Leper Apostle Now Rests In Belgium

Father Damien, Belgium's famous "leper apostle," who spent most of his life on the leper island of Molokai, Hawaiian Islands, was buried in a crypt at Louvain, Belgium, after his body was returned to his native country. Thousands filed past his coffin and prayed. A monument is being erected to his memory. The body of the priest was taken to Belgium for belated recognition of his work. He died in his voluntary exile among the lepers of Molokai, February 15, 1889, and the body was exhumed for the trip back to his homeland.

Cameraman In Hollywood Uses Cellophane To Reduce Glare

Now, they're wrapping light in cellophane. Ernest Palmer, Hollywood cameraman, is credited with devising the new technique in light control.

"When natural light is being used," he explained, "it is often difficult to control its intensity. In such cases, I found it helpful to cover the windows with cellophane. Clear cellophane materially reduces glare."

"Morning sun, often too intense, is controlled by sheets of yellow cellophane. When backgrounds are shadowed, as in the afternoon, I use yellow cellophane."

Bishop Has Doomed Which Keeps Him Moving About

Bishop of Melanesia, a see which includes the Solomon Islands and the New Hebrides, former combatant lieutenant-colonel and occupant of a "bishop's palace" that moves about the diocese under its own power, describes a passenger who landed at Montreal from the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Richmond. The bishop whose see is on the sea is Rt. Rev. W. H. Baddeley, D.D., M.C., former commanding officer of the Eighth East Surrey regiment, whose command of a regiment at the age of 25 rated him as one of the youngest colonels in the Great War. Accompanied by Mrs. Baddeley, the bishop is en route to his southern diocese and sailed from Vancouver in the M.V. Aorangi, May 20 for Auckland, where he will be met by his 110-foot power schooner, "The Southern Cross". The 300-ton motor cruiser is his home. It is staffed with white officers and a native crew. "Contributions from England, Australia and New Zealand finance our work in Melanesia," Bishop Baddeley told Montreal reporters.

Could Represent Empire

One Ambassador At Washington Suggested By Senator Casgrain

Representation of the British Empire by one Ambassador at Washington rather than Ambassadors from the various Dominions was advocated in the Senate by J. F. B. Casgrain (Liberal, Montreal). Senator Casgrain said the vacant post of Canadian Ambassador to the United States should not be filled. One Ambassador for the Empire would be more proper because Ambassador from the various Dominions might hold different opinions possibly would cause embarrassment.

HOUSE IN FURORE OVER CHARGES ABOUT WALL ST.

Ottawa.—John Blackmore, leader of the Social Crediters, threw the House of Commons into a furore by relaying anonymous charges that an intrigue exists to place Canada under the control of Wall Street.

The former school teacher from Lethbridge refused to accept responsibility for the statement or disclose the author, finally withdrawing it after a stormy 15 minutes. The incident was climaxed by Deputy Speaker Sanderson ordering the statement expunged from Hansard, an incident which hasn't happened in years.

While attacking a government resolution to amend the British North America Act to empower the Dominion to guarantee provincial borrowings under certain conditions and extend to them power to collect sales tax, Mr. Blackmore first gave his opinion "money power" was attempting to enslave all mankind.

Then he continued: "Here are a few words from a man whom I very much fear knows a good deal about his subject." He then read the following from a yellow sheet of paper: "Your major danger in Canada now is in connection with an intrigue between the financiers of the United States, the Bankers of Canada and I left this blank—to modify the British North America Act so as to put you under the control of Wall Street. The danger is instant and serious."

"This led to a hubbub with points of order flying across the chamber.

Hon. C. A. Dunning, minister of finance, wanted to know the name of the author.

"I said I would not give the name," replied Mr. Blackmore.

"You should give the authority or accept responsibility for the statement," insisted the finance minister.

When this didn't work, Mr. Dunning appealed to the chair with Conservative Leader Bennett, Premier Mackenzie King and half a dozen other members taking part in the short but pithy exchange.

The deputy speaker ruled the Social Credit leader must divulge the name or accept responsibility for the charge.

Given that choice, Mr. Blackmore withdrew, adding: "Naturally I do not propose to take the responsibility for the statement nor do I propose to give the name of the person who wrote it. It cannot be revealed at the present time as I will withdraw." He stepped into trouble a few seconds later when he said: "I am glad the members have had the chance to hear it," referring to the statement.

This led the Conservative leader to suggest the statement be deleted from house records, the deputy speaker agreeing with him.

Makes Record Trip

Zeppelin Hindenburg Crosses Atlantic in 48 Hours

Frankfort-On-Main, Germany.—The Zeppelin Hindenburg arrived over the aerodrome here completing its return from its maiden trip to the United States.

The German dirigible took 48 hours, 27½ minutes to make its return flight. It took 61 hours, 53 minutes for its crossing from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Lakehurst, N.J.

The Hindenburg bettered existing records for both the eastward and westward crossings.

The best previous mark from the United States to Germany was set by the Graf Zeppelin in August, 1929, when it flew from Lakehurst to Friedrichshafen in 54 hours.

The previous westward record was set by the Los Angeles, then known as the ZR-3, in October, 1924, when Dr. Hugo Eckener brought the airship across the Atlantic in 81 hours, 17 minutes.

Praises Canadian Red Cross

Ottawa.—Lady Tweedsmuir in a statement issued on behalf of the Canadian Red Cross Society on British Empire Red Cross Day and the 15th anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, said both she and the Governor-General were "much impressed by the admirable way in which the Red Cross of Canada has translated the ideals of Florence Nightingale into effect."

Winnipeg.—Formation of a national fact-finding body to represent the livestock industry in Canada was approved at a meeting of the Western Livestock Union here. The recommendation will be forwarded to the federal government.

Radio Advertising

Urge Wider Use Of Air At A Lower Cost

Ottawa.—Reorganization of radio control in Canada along lines that would permit wider use of the air at a lower cost to advertisers was urged upon the parliamentary committee on broadcasting.

Representatives of associations of Canadian advertisers, advertising agencies and broadcasters, suggested establishment of a general manager system with a board of governors acting in an advisory capacity.

It was urged contracts between the governing radio body and the land-wire companies be such that network facilities could be sub-let to advertisers at attractive rates.

The advertisers urged that radio be permitted to mention the price of advertised articles which they are now forbidden to do.

It was suggested the national system of control be restricted to program arrangements and regulations, and that the government not engage in commercial broadcasting.

The brief also urged the technical and engineering aspects of radio be restored to the department of marine where it was administered prior to creation of the Canadian radio commission.

C. M. Passmore, of Toronto; Glen Bannerman of Tilbury, Ont., and J. A. MacLaren, of Toronto, spoke for the advertisers and broadcasters.

Free Trade Zones

Say Canada Will Derive Benefit From Free Ports

Ottawa.—The senate gave second reading to a bill to establish "free ports" or "free foreign trade zones" in Canada and a special committee will study the proposal before the bill is advanced further.

Senator J. P. B. Cagrain (Lib., Montreal), who introduced the bill, urged Canada under the proposal would derive benefits similar to those obtained by numerous European nations which established "free ports."

The bill gives authority to the minister of national revenue to license a public body, a province or municipality to organize and conduct at their expense "free ports" at approved places.

Duty would be collected on goods reimported from these ports only if they were consigned to persons in Canada. If the goods were to be sent to foreign countries, there would be no excise duty.

Manufacturing would be stimulated at such ports, said Senator Cagrain. Also, an immense trans-shipment business would be built up. "And it would not cost the taxpayers of the country one cent," he added.

Honored By The King

Late Viceroy Of India Has Received New Title

London.—The king approved that a marquisate be conferred on the Earl of Willingdon, who has just completed a five-year term as viceroy of India.

The king received Lord Willingdon in audience at Buckingham palace and afterwards the retiring viceroy and Lady Willingdon had luncheon with His Majesty and Queen Mary.

Freeman Freeman-Thomas was raised to the peerage as Baron Willingdon in 1910. In 1924 he was created a viscount and in 1931, on his appointment as viceroy of India after completing a term as governor-general of Canada, he was created first Earl of Willingdon. As a marquis, he will probably retain his association with Willingdon, Sussex, taking the title Marquess of Willingdon.

Great Britain To Ask United States And Japan For Permission To Exceed Limit

London.—Great Britain has asked the United States and Japan for permission to exceed the destroyer tonnage limit in the 1930 three-power naval treaty.

The request, disclosed by Prime Minister Baldwin in the House of Commons, may arise from increased naval construction by some country which did not sign the agreement, naval quarters believed.

Sugar Consumption Increased

Ottawa.—Canada's consumption of sugar last year amounted to 981,109,960 pounds, according to a return tabled by Trade Minister Euler in the House of Commons. This was the highest figure since 1921 when sugar consumption totalled 1,003,906,912 pounds.

Annuity Rates Too Low

Canadian Government Should Charge More States Chief Actuary

Ottawa.—As a result of the increase in life expectancy in the last quarter-century, purchasers of Canadian government annuities should be paying rates 25 per cent. in excess of those prevailing, A. D. Watson, chief actuary of the Dominion insurance department, estimated at a meeting of a senate special committee.

On the basis, he said, $26,000,000 should have been collected as purchase price in place of $21,000,000 on annuity contracts made last year.

Increase in life expectancy among industrial policyholders was from 46.63 per cent. in 1911 to 51.19 per cent. in 1934, according to figures of a leading insurance company, he said.

Recognizing this, groups of insurance companies increased their rates from 27 to 33 per cent., but annuity rates had not been changed since the scheme started in 1908. British government rates had been raised.

Loans Being Consolidated

Ottawa Announces Policy Regarding Advances To Manitoba

Ottawa.—Loans of the Dominion to Manitoba which have matured recently or will mature within a short time will be consolidated into one amount and renewed until June 15, 1937. An order-in-council tabled in the House of Commons provides for renewal of these loans.

The Dominion also renewed for one year its guarantee of Manitoba treasury bills totalling $5,874,037 which matured at the beginning of this month.

ETHIOPIANS SET UP A NEW SEAT OF GOVERNMENT

Khartoum.—Loyal followers of Emperor Haile Selassie have established an Ethiopian government in the Gore region close to the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan frontier, British authorities were informed here.

Gore is about 250 miles southwest of Addis Ababa and only about 50 miles east of Gambela, Ethiopian trading centre now under the jurisdiction of Sudan authorities by virtue of a lease arranged in the tripartite treaty of 1908.

Capt. E. N. Erskine, British consul in the Gore region, announced establishment of the Ethiopian administration in a despatch to Sudan authorities. Police and troops under the government's orders are patrolling the region, arresting bands of armed army deserters, the despatch said.

No indication was given as to whether the government had been set up in the town of Gore or in the mountainous district outside the city. The Ethiopians were believed anxious to keep their exact location secret, fearing an air attack by Italian planes stationed at Addis Ababa.

Despatches from Addis Ababa said an Italian motorized column had left there for Gore to bring the region under Italian control.

Stellarton Miner Killed

One Of The Men Who Helped At Moose River Meets Death In Mine Shaft

Stellarton, N.S.—Joe Campbell, one of the Stellarton miners who risked their lives to save Dr. E. E. Robertson and Alfred Scadding, died in the depths of MacGregor shaft.

A roaring "coal trip"—a string of loaded cars returning to the surface—broke the 27-year-old Campbell 4,000 feet underground and killed him almost instantly.

He was among the miners and draggermen in the Reynolds shaft when the last barrier to Robertson, Scadding and the body of Magill was broken 10 days after the collapse. He is survived by his widow and one child.

Winnipeg.—On an extended holiday to the old country, George H. McIvor, assistant chief commissioner of the Canadian wheat board, will consult with the grain trade and millers in Europe.

Announcement of Mr. McIvor's visit was made at the wheat board offices. Mr. McIvor is accompanied by Dr. W. F. Geddes, chemist in charge of the grain research laboratory of the board of grain commissioners here.

May Take Month's Holiday

Ottawa.—Amendments to letters patent from the king under which the governor-general of Canada carries out duties of his office will permit his absence from Canada for a period not exceeding one month. Heretofore the governor-general could not leave Canadian soil without special permission from His Majesty and the appointment of an administrator.

B.C. Motor Roads

Dust Free Road From Banff To U.S. Boundary Is Considered

Ottawa.—Construction of dust-free roads from the United States boundary to the Banff National Park is being considered, Interior Minister T. A. Crerar told the House of Commons.

The Dominion has spent $100,000 on the park and last year only 4,800 American cars visited it. The minister said many Americans turned back after a few miles of the dusty, gravel roads.

It was a question of deciding what roads to refurbish, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader said. One of the difficulties of the park was the fact the Jasper highway was not completed nor the road to the coast. Tourists must return by the road they entered.

Hon. H. H. Stevens (Recon., East Kootenay) put in a word for parks in British Columbia. He believed it should be a national policy to open national parks to American tourists. American tourists returned home and warned their friends not to use western Canadian roads because of the dust, Mr. Stevens said. He suggested one national road in each province replace the parks.

H. C. Green (Con., Vancouver South) wanted the trans-Canada highway completed first, the last gap being the Big Bend highway.

Mr. Crerar said he believed if the roads were dust-proofed from King's Gate to Banff and from there to Calgary and to Waterton park many thousands of tourists would use them. The minister said he would discuss with British Columbia representatives the dust-proofing of roads on the west side of the mountains.

J. A. MacKinnon (Lib., Edmonton West) pressed for a connecting link between Jasper and the trans-Canada.

Nazi Ship At Montreal

No Disturbance Greeted Arrival Of German Cruiser

Montreal.—The German cruiser Emden docked at Montreal, May 12, slipping quietly out of a thick morning fog to tie up at Laurier pier.

Cordons of police held back crowds of civilians on shore to greet the German vessel but within sight of the ship there was no disturbance.

A few streets from the waterfront, however, police—250 strong—broke up a crowd of 200 persons attempting an anti-Nazi demonstration. Ten persons, including three women, were arrested and charged with disturbing the peace.

The Emden is the first vessel to fly the Nazi flag up the St. Lawrence river and the first German warship to come upstream since before the Great War. She is the third Relp ship to carry the name "Emden," the name made famous in the early months of the Great War by Kaiser Wilhelm's daring sea captain, Von Muller.

TAKE STEPS TO MAKE THE LEAGUE MORE EFFECTIVE

Geneva.—International jurists began active work to make the League of Nations more effective.

The first suggestions were submitted by Nicholas Socrates Politis, former foreign minister of Greece, recognized as one of the greatest European juridical authorities.

Politis handed to Joseph Paul-Boncour, French delegate to Geneva, his recommendations on possible amendments to the league covenant.

The council, which postponed its deliberations on the Italian invasion of Ethiopia after the Fascist delegation withdrew from the sessions, adjourned after two meetings—one private and one public.

At the former, the members decided to hold the special session on the Italo-Ethiopian dispute June 16 instead of a day earlier, as previously announced.

Other subjects placed on the agenda for the June meeting were the Locarno problem, resulting from Germany's reoccupation of the Rhineland, and the international slavery question.

The public session was devoted to the proposal to create a council seat for China. The council decided to refer the proposal to the league assembly in September.

The council meetings were completely overshadowed by discussions behind the scenes on the problem of reorganization and revitalizing the league's peace machinery.

COMMISSION WILL MAKE STUDY OF LABOR PROBLEMS

Ottawa.—A seven-member national employment commission was announced by Labor Minister Norman Rogers.

Headed by Arthur B. Purvis, Montreal, the commission personnel includes three business men, a representative of Labor, a former newspaperman, a university professor and a Saskatchewan farmer.

The commission slate: Arthur B. Purvis, Montreal, chairman; A. N. McLean, Black's Harbor, N.B.; Alfred Marois, Quebec; Tom Moore, Ottawa; Mrs. Mary M. Sutherland, Wells, B.C.; W. A. MacKintosh, Kingston, Ont., and E. J. Young, Dummer, Sask.

Its purpose, according to Chairman Purvis, is to try and pinpoint the cause of unemployment in Canada. Its first function, will be to try and get at the actual facts in respect to unemployment in Canada. Its first meeting will probably be held in about a week when plans will be made for carrying on the work. It will work in close co-operation with the department of labor.

"I have great confidence in this new venture in nation-wide co-operation as an approach to stubborn economic problems," the minister said. "The personnel of the commission has been selected with the utmost care. Each member will be able to contribute a specialized fund of knowledge and experience to the study of the complex problem of unemployment and relief. The chairman and members of the new commission may be assured from the outset of the full co-operation of the department of labor."

The chairman issued this statement: "The national employment commission has been set up by the government to bring about the re-employment of those who would normally be self-supporting were it not for the dislocation of trade.

"In recent years we as citizens have been far too prone to lean upon the government for the solution of all our problems and have fallen into a habit of destructively criticizing the government or the economic system—a course which can get us nowhere.

"Our government believes, and the national employment commission believes, that Canadians are ready to move out of this atmosphere of doubt and criticism. More—that they are prepared to take their part in a nation-wide co-operative effort to face squarely the problems before us, and make such sacrifices as will bring about their solution.

"With this end in view the national employment commission will seek the co-operation of all men and women, young and old, in a team effort to win back for all the right to a true feeling of independence."

"Personally I feel this will give an opportunity for contact between industry and government, an opportunity which has been lacking in the past," the new chairman said, outlining the plans of the commission.

Reduced Rates On Coal

Want Lower Freight Rates In West To Meet Competition

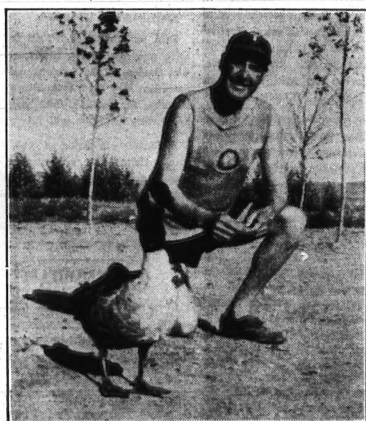

Saskatoon.—Lower railway rates in order to make coal a more attractive fuel and hence increase its market will be one thing for which the new executive of the Western Canada Fuel Association will press during the next year. A reduction in freight rates would enable coal to meet the competition from substitute fuels, particularly in the Winnipeg market.

By a unanimous vote the mine operators, wholesalers and retail coal merchants instructed the chief executive officer of the association to approach the officials of both railway companies with a view to getting reduced freight rates in western Canada. In urging this move dealers pointed out that transportation costs were the largest single item in the price of coal in more distant markets. A reduction in freight rates would enable coal to meet the competition from substitute fuels, particularly in the Winnipeg market.

To Attend Vancouver Celebration

Ottawa.—The party of parliamentarians and press gallery correspondents which will travel by special train across Canada to visit the golden jubilee celebrations at Vancouver will leave the east the first week of August. It was announced here, following a meeting of interested members of parliament. Arrangements will be made to stop at several points during the trip to the Pacific.

THE GOOSE GOES "GADGING"

At a summer resort near Regina, a Canada Goose has become very friendly with the life guard, M. P. Ryan, and is very popular. The goose, which has been named "Honker," will answer Mr. Ryan's call, walk with him on the beach or swim beside him in the water. Honker will answer Mr. Ryan's call from half a mile away if the wind is favorable, and will even oblige any press photographer who may wish to take a picture of Honker and his friend. Here is the unusual goose with Mr. Ryan, who apparently knows Honker's best spot—ice cream in the cone.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Edward Ennis, who was called away on May 25th, 1930. "Six years have passed since that sad day, When I stood beside his bed, My heart was crushed and broken, When I saw that he was dead. Ofttime I'll sit and think of him When I'm all alone, For memory is the only thing That grief can call its own. He never failed to do his best; His heart was true and tender. He worked so hard for us he loved, Then left us to remember." Sadly missed by Mother and Family.

THE FIRM OF Mr. and Mrs.

THEIR ASSETS—Health, a few securities, and hope for the future.

THEIR PROBLEM—To raise money for a temporary need, and still retain their securities.

THEIR SOLUTION—They talk it over with their banker, arrange to borrow against their securities. Within a reasonable time they pay off their loan (for they are thrifty), and will get back their securities intact.

Thus the firm of Mr. and Mrs. have established a line of credit. Perhaps even more important, they have discovered their local bank manager is more than a banker—he is their friendly counsellor too.
